

some parts of you
hate when others see.

You can
feel peace
in accepting
that there will always be

There is vulnerability
in being wrong,
and strength
in the decision
to change.

We've got to make
new mistakes
instead of the same ones we've been making
over and over.

The more you can
accept in others,
the more you can
accept in yourself.

My friend,
reality
is merely a mirror
looking
right back
at
you.
